*Defined as “everything you own minus everything that you owe”, includes primary residence equity and excludes vacation properties, closely held businesses, cars, other personal assets and intellectual property.

What is the minimum amount of assets required for you to take a client?
No asset minimum

If you receive payment for insurance product commissions, what percentage of your business revenue do they make up?
No commissions

Do you consider yourself a fiduciary?
Yes

Do you routinely sign a fiduciary agreement with clients?
Yes
Investment Philosophy

Do you use tactical asset allocation? If so, please explain your process.

No. Strategic asset allocation used, based on DFA funds/models. No tactical strategies implemented.

Do you believe you can time the market sufficiently well to beat a comparable low-cost index fund after fees?

It’s very difficult – I don’t try.

Do you pick individual stocks for clients?

no

Do you believe most physicians should own a cash value life insurance policy of any type? If so, what type and why?

There can be certain applications for cash value life insurance policies, but these are generally niche strategies for tax and estate purposes, or other (like using a long term care rider to secure LTC coverage combined with a death benefit). I very seldom recommend these, they are generally not appropriate for physicians with student loans or who are aggressive accumulators. Cheap/transparent term coverage is generally the best way to secure death benefit protection when that’s what is needed. Insurance policies are not my preferred/recommended vehicle for investing or accumulating cash deferred interest.

Do you believe you can select mutual fund managers who can beat an index fund in the same asset class over the long term going forward?

It’s difficult. There are some factors which can be isolated/controlled which have historically added value over time. I select funds that emphasize low cost, low turnover/tax efficiency, and broad diversification. DFA’s methodology for stock selection and transaction timing has performed well in the past, but there may be long periods in the future when they (or any other manager) may underperform a given index or asset class.

What percentage of a typical client portfolio would you place into actively managed mutual funds or ETFs?

All funds are DFA funds, depends on how you classify these. They are not index funds in the strict sense but are closer to a “passive” than “active” management style. More like a strict rules-based broadly-diversified set of funds that are managed systematically within that paradigm. However they do have low-cost and low-turnover benefits similar to index funds.

What role do fees play in your selection of individual investments?

Very important consideration

What fund companies do you routinely use? (Check all that apply)

- Vanguard
- DFA
- Bridgeway
- iShares
Other (Please list):

Do you routinely engage in tax-loss harvesting for clients in their taxable accounts?

Yes, when applicable.
Physician Specific Issues

How many physicians and/or dentists are you currently advising? (i.e. managed assets of or met with in the last year): 40

What do you feel is your biggest value-add for a doctor?

Being married to a physician, I have an intimate understanding of the personal, family, and lifestyle challenges associated with a career in medicine.

Do you consider yourself qualified to give high-quality advice on all of the following student loan related issues: IBR, PAYE, REPAYE, PSLF, deferment, forbearance, and student loan refinancing? Why or why not? Is this advice included in your regular fees listed above?

Yes. I routinely perform these analyses for clients, and help them to optimize payback strategies based on expected earnings for them and spouse, expected family size, expected career trajectory, etc. This is included in planning fees or can be purchased a-la-carte.

How many clients have you assisted with a Backdoor Roth IRA in the last year?

Which of the following accounts do you consider yourself an expert on? (check all that apply)

- 401(k)
- 403(b)
- 457(b)
- Individual 401(k)
- SEP-IRA
- SIMPLE IRA
- Traditional IRA
- Roth IRA
- HSA
- Profit-sharing Plan
- Defined Benefit/Cash Balance Plan
- Others (Please list):

What steps do you proactively take in a market downturn to improve investor behavior?

The entire investment conversation is framed in the context of a long-term experience that plays out over years. Short-termism is deadly, and this is discussed at the outset and consistently throughout the client engagement. Any assets needed within the next five to seven years will be invested more conservatively, and assets needed in a < 3 year window will be held in low-duration bonds and cash equivalents. This can help to preserve capital, and also to manage the investor’s psyche.

Anything else that you would like me to take into consideration with regards to your application? (Attach additional documentation as desired)
My wife is an anesthesia resident at University of Pennsylvania, and I’m building my fee-only practice to focus specifically on serving anesthesiologists and pain physicians.
